Exercise 3 Evaluating concluding sentences

Read the paragraphs below. Then read the concluding sentences that follow, and decide which one works best. Copy the sentence you choose into the paragraph.

There They Are!

I feel happy whenever I am at a train station waiting for someone who is close to me. I was the youngest child in my family, so my older brothers and sisters left home before I did. However, they always returned for vacations and holidays. My mother, father, and I were always at the train station to greet them. I enjoyed the smell of the train and the roaring noise it made as the big black engine pulled into the station. I would jump up and down trying to see while everyone crowded around the doors. "There they are!" my mother would cry.

I would run to jump into the arms of my beloved brother or sister.

Now I am an adult, but I still feel joy when I go to the train station to meet someone I love.

- a. In conclusion, I always had an enjoyable visit with my brothers and sisters.
b. In conclusion, my whole family likes train stations.
c Now I am an adult, but I still feel joy when I go to the train station to meet someone I love.

A Wise Shopper

A consumer can save a lot of money by shopping wisely. This means he is always looking for sales and collecting coupons. It also means that the person is not a compulsive shopper. In other words, the wise consumer does his research and makes a plan so that he knows what he is looking for. He is not tempted by attractive products that are not necessary. Sometimes he goes home without purchasing anything. He might think he wasted his time, but he knows he did not waste his money.

In conclusion, a wise shopper finds ways to save money on the price and to avoid buying what he does not need.

- In conclusion, a compulsive shopper can never be a wise shopper.
- In conclusion, a wise shopper also keeps a budget so that he knows how much he can spend.
- ☒ In conclusion, a wise shopper finds ways to save money on the price and to avoid buying what he does not need.

Exercise 4 Editing a paragraph

Read and edit the paragraph. Fix run-on sentences, fragments, and mistakes in capitalization. There are three sentences that do not support the topic sentence. Cross them out.

My Red Couch

I acquired a couch in an interesting way. I was walking to the bus stop, and I saw the couch on the sidewalk. There was a sign on the couch that read "I am free. Take me home." ~~I like taking the bus to school because I can study on the bus or read the newspaper.~~ I really liked the couch. It had a beautiful wooden frame and red fabric. However, there was a problem. I did not have a truck. ~~My apartment was five blocks away.~~ Suddenly, I saw my classmate across the street. ~~She usually sat next to me in a computer class.~~ I told her my problem, <sup>and</sup> she offered to help. It <sup>was</sup> a big, heavy couch, but my friend and I carried it down the street. When we got tired, we sat down to rest on the couch. Finally, we brought it to
